

African NATURAL HISTORY

PUBLISHED BY IZIKO MUSEUMS

Volume 7 / December 2011

Including: The tube anemone Ceriantheopsis from South Africa

African NATURAL HISTORY

Volume 7 / December 2011

CONTENTS

- A new species of shallow-water cerianthid (Cnidaria: Anthozoa) from South Africa, with remarks on the genus *Ceriantheopsis
— T.N. Molodtsova, C.L. Griffiths & F.H. Acuña 1–8
- Micromammals in the Northern Cape Province of South Africa, past and present
— D.M. Avery & G. Avery 9–39
- Hoplitoplacenticeras (H.) howarthi* Collignon, 1970 (Cephalopoda: Ammonoidea) from KwaZulu-Natal, South Africa and Madagascar; intraspecific variation, dimorphism and affinities
— H.C. Klinger & W.J. Kennedy 41–61
- The Upper Cretaceous ammonite Grandidiericeras Collignon, 1961 (Puzosiinae), from the St Lucia Formation of KwaZulu-Natal, South Africa
— W.J. Kennedy & H.C. Klinger 63–67
- Cretaceous faunas from Zululand and Natal, South Africa. The ammonite genus Oxytropidoceras Stieler, 1920
— W.J. Kennedy & H.C. Klinger 69–102